

What Do Consumers Say?

Consumer Reviews:

"The best thing I have ever found for my dry feet; I haven't found anything else that comes close. It is definitely designed for extremely dry feet and hands, and you'll most certainly notice a difference after the first time you use it."

"I have used this product for at least 20 years. I still have the original bottle my Mother gave me, and it still works. It really does remove that dead skin on your feet, hands, elbows and knees. I would not use it on my face. My bottle is almost out and I was so happy to find this site. Thank heavens for the Internet."

"I have tried many products to remove rough skin on my feet and hands, and this is the only one that worked! I would not use it in the tub area as the recommend as the water slows the process. Use it before getting in the shower. The dead skin just rolls right off!"

"PFH is the best exfoliation product that I have used. I am quite sure that the people who are not seeing the results are either applying the lotion to moist skin or are using too much. You have to keep rubbing the lotion in until it is close to drying. I use it on my face as well, and the results are better than what I have received from microdermabrasion."
